

We're better together.

NeroQom works with a range of designers, construction partners and exploitation managers as the architects of bespoke high-end maintenance solutions.

Fancy, right?

In practice that means we're here to answer some very complex, specific questions with our unique knowledge and experience. We're the only Squad that our clients need to answer detailed problems with solutions based on real-world projects completed.

We don't guess. We know.
We've been there.
Done that.

If you have "how do I...?" questions, NeroQom has the best answers for you.

In design, construction and exploitation, we're here to help you develop diverse strategies for your project as well as to ensure visual comfort at every stage.

We're here to trouble shoot specific issues, restore your project, budget and to plan for the future with you.

Consultancy which helps.

NeroQom focuses on delivering results-based consultancy. That means that we work with you with a tangible aim in mind and will only deem our job as done when that aim is completed.

Some examples of issues we help with include:

- We have a serious problem, what's the cost to resolve it?
- We're designing a prestigious building, which suitable materials have the lowest maintenance costs?
- We're seeing some extreme degradation to our building, what's causing it?
- We've been given advice and prices to resolve an issue, can you give a second opinion?
- The project is ready, we need a professional Operational Manual for handover, can you help?
- We need to ensure that our warranty is maintained, how can we do it?
- We need to budget for the future, can you help with a Multi-Year Maintenance Plan?
- Our building is ready for handover, is it in good enough condition?
- A company just cleaned but we're not happy with the result, can you check it out for us?

Whatever you need, we don't want to leave you with more questions. We'll get you the answers you need and results you'll love.

Because that's what we do.

Knowledge made of experience, not theory.

We've been doing this a long time, so our answers don't come from the back of a bottle. They come from real-world experience. We've been all over the world helping clients to experience new again, so every challenge we're given benefits from this vast pool of knowledge.

Our broad vision sees your project in a global context, letting us connect the dots at every step. From design, through construction, exploitation, restoration and restyle, we have skills that can help save you time, money and give you stronger results.

We know this, because we've done it before. After all, who understands something better than the people working with these exact issues every day for years?

We know how materials interact, how any material degrades over time, how pollution affects finishes and when it's a bad idea to simply wipe a surface down with a cloth.

Don't just react, plan.

Everyone knows that prevention is better than cure. It's cheaper and less disruptive to restore a surface than it is to replace it.

That's why we analyse the cause of any issue we're shown. We not just there to diagnose, but also to ensure that the risk of further or future damage is minimised or even eliminated. Beyond that, we'll work with you to put in place planned and structured maintenance to keep your project looking as good as possible for as long as we can.

We can only do this by having a huge range of knowledge and comprehensive range of solutions to hand. That's why you'll only get this high-end quality from NeroQom.

When it comes to results,
we're beyond comparison.
