

It's not just about what you see, but how you're seen.

For NeroQom, glass is an integral part of modern architecture. It's everywhere. It's often one of the first things that your users, staff and owners will be wowed by.

All too often that first impression is ruined in seconds by scratched and damaged glass.

It's easily done by washing or poorly completed work.

Glass can be scratched which not only ruins the view but impacts visual comfort.

But this isn't just on older projects, new constructions can also come with scratched glass. With contracts containing acceptable amounts of damage. It may be acceptable for the contract, but it doesn't mean it's good enough for you or your clients.

We're in competition with replacement.

Sometimes it can seem like the only option for badly damaged glass is replacement. It's what a lot of companies recommend first. But this is expensive and can be massively disruptive to your users. In extreme cases it can be almost impossible to actually achieve.

NeroQom aims to stop replacement of glass every time. Our treatments are effective and flexible. We can remove different depths of scratch, any number of them and in any location.

The Squad can do this on any type of glass no matter the character, finish, shape or whether it is inside or outside.

We can get rid of the full range of glass damage including:

- Scratches
- Chips
- Pits
- Acid graffiti

When it comes to your glass, a business can pick someone from the Internet or choose a company with a long list of happy, prestigious clients.

Which sounds a better choice to you?

It's easier to fix.

The figures can suggest that it's cheaper to replace a pane of glass than to fix it. If the surface is too badly compromised, it's simpler to just swap it out, right?

Well, it's never that simple.

Not once you move away from theory and into the real-world. The disruption and inconvenience caused by a lengthy replacement can result in lost revenue for you and problems for your users. Plus, there's always the risk of collateral damage to the surrounding areas and beyond.

Additionally, access and subsidiary issues, such as window frames, can quickly add on costs and implications for the "simple" replacement.

So, whilst you're considering what to do, get us in to take a look and remove the issue immediately. The ease of repair will most likely quickly outweigh any benefit replacement would offer.

It doesn't matter how scratched the pane is, we have a comprehensive range of products and technologies with trained professionals to handle any job you have for us. Just let us know and we'll let you know what will get the best result for you.

We go beyond scratches.

NeroQom offers a large range of different Disciplines which will take care of your glass once the scratches are dealt with. Each evolved over time and with the benefit of our experience.

We also offer Disciplines covering every other material and treatment your project could possibly need.
